

Prepare for Foreign Service Examination With Review Course

STUDENTS INTENDING to take the Foreign Service Examination will be interested in learning that the University's eighth annual session of the Foreign Service Review Course will be held from June 15 through August 21.

The course is designed specifically to prepare candidates for the annual Foreign Service Examination. It is an intensive ten-week review of pertinent subject matter, intended to help the student integrate and augment his formal college training with special instruction in subjects he may have missed completely.

According to Professor Wilson E. Schmidt, director of the Foreign Service Review Course, during the past seven years, half of the approximately 400 participants in the course have passed the non-language portion of the State Department examination. Application for the course may be secured in Dean Arthur Burns office, Gov. 204. The form plus two letters of recommendation attesting to the applicant's personal qualifications, character, and scholarship and a $3 application fee are due in the Director's office by May 31. Tuition for the course is $220.

The following subjects will be reviewed: American history—diplomatic, political, social and economic; principles of economics—international economics and finance; English—emphasis on composition, vocabulary and reading comprehension; general statistics—primarily drill in interpretation of quantitative data.

Also geography—political, economic and physical; international affairs—highlights in international politics, organization and law; American government—emphasis on organization and constitutional development; European history—including diplomatic history; contemporary affairs—current domestic and international problems. No foreign language review is offered in the course.

Only those authorized by the Department of State to take the written Foreign Service Examinations, September 14-17, are eligible to take this course. Applications may be secured from the Director of the Review Course. Enrollment is limited and admission is on a competitive basis. Applicants are expected to have a Bachelors degree in the social science field, a superior academic record, and a minimum of two years of college work in a foreign language or the equivalent.

There will be four fifty-minute class periods daily, Monday through Friday, throughout the ten week session.

Miss Oakes Goes To Blossom Fete

JOLENE OAKES will represent the University at the Court of Queen Shenandoah XXVI at the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Va. on April 30 to May 1.

Miss Oakes is a native of Kansas and was graduated from the Independence, Kansas, High School and has also studied in Switzerland. She is the assistant accompanist for the Traveling Troubadours and the University Glee Club, which sponsored her in the campus contest for the selection of an Apple Blossom princess to represent the University. Miss Oakes, a member of Phi Beta Phi sorority, sang in the Messiah chorus at Christmas performance.

Marvin Tells HATCHET of Improvements

THE UNIVERSITY is getting a complete face lifting, with paint, new accessories and an extensive remodeling job.

Build Up School

"The new platform is just one of the things we're doing to build up the school," Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, University president, disclosed to the Hatchet. "As soon as the library is completed, all of the surrounding buildings will get a new coat of paint," Dr. Marvin disclosed. "In addition, the building's crumbling steps will be replaced by brand new ones," he said.

These developments will not be long in coming. The light floors of stacks are almost ready for the shelves. In its final shape the entire library will have 300,000 volumes, including the Carnegie gift of 60,000 volumes of International Law books. The old and new sections of the stacks will be joined and the remainder of Building D will be made into reading rooms.

Library to be Further Enlarged Dr. Marvin also revealed that the library will be further enlarged as soon as the school is able to build a new building devoted completely to research.

The new Lisner Terrace, object of all the digging behind the Library, also promises to be a nice change. The old platform, which was too low, began to sink further down. So it was decided to build a new terrace, bolstered by pillars. The construction will be completed soon and, weather permitting, graduation exercises will be held there.

May Day Program Features IFC Sing, Queen Crowning

THE MAY DAY program will be divided into two sections this year. The first division is to feature the competitive Inter-Fraternity Council sing.

The second division will include the awards assembly, the May Queen crowning, Mortar Board tapping, announcement of the Student Council elections, journalism honorary Pi Delta Epsilon's medal of merit presentation and results of the IFC sing.

Nine Frats Enter Sing

The nine fraternities which are entered in the IFC Sing competition are Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, Phi Alpha, Acacia, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Tau Epsilon Phi, Phi Sigma Kappa, Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

All women members of Who's Who are eligible for May Queen. Four finalists will be selected by a vote of the women on campus. Again, the women vote and decide a queen from among the finalists.

Queen from Who's Who Entrants in this year's contest

The Late George Apley Opens Thursday at Lisner Auditorium, Lawford Appears in Title Role

NITA D'ARLY and Derek Lawford as Catherine and George Apley carry on a conventional conversation in their stuffy surroundings on Beacon Hill. The shy young couple in the background are Beth Walton as Agnes Willing and Michael Foley as John Apply. The play, which pictures pre-World War I Boston, opens this Thursday for a three-day stand in Lisner.

THE UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY Theater will present "The Late George Apley" three nights this week, with the opening Thursday at 8:30 p.m., in Lisner Auditorium.

Seats are $1.00 and $1.25, and may be purchased at the Student Union from 12 to 2 p.m., and at Lisner from 12 to 6 p.m., daily.

Under the direction of William Callahan, managing director of University dramatic activities, the cast has been busy for several weeks brushing up on broad "A's" and Boston manners for this satire of 1912 life on Beacon Hill.

The cast, composed of University and community players, includes Derek Lawford as George Apley. Others are Nita D'Arly, Michael Foley, Ann Williams, Ellen Hull, Bob Block, Beth Walton, Jack Jeglum, Lorrie Moritz, John Vance, Mary Schrup, Peggy McVeary, Paul Fox, Eugene Stechov, David Martz and James Dour.

Pulitzer Prize Novel

"The Late George Apley" was a Pulitzer Prize novel by John P. Marquand published in 1937. Later Mr. Marquand and George S. Kaufman adapted the story for the stage and presented a successful New York run in 1944.

The play is the third offering of the 1952-53 dramatic season at the University. The University dramatic activities opened last December with "The Merchant of Yonkers," Thornton Wilder's farce. In February, the players presented the melodrama, "The Scapagoat."

Invite Ambassadors

Among those invited for the opening performance are the Ambassadors of Portugal, Pakistan, Spain, Finland, Korea, Argentina, Denmark, Switzerland, Turkey, Germany and India.

Those who have been actively working on the production end are: Mary Schrup, stage manager; Don Gruver and Lila Davy, assistant stage managers; Pat Coward, prop chairman, assisted by Jane O'Brien and Linda Abbot; Eve Lyne, costumes manager, assisted by Dory Johnson; Roger Meersman, electrician, assisted by Marshall Booth and Sue Hurst, manager of the box office staff.

The set was designed by Donald C. Kline of the University art department and was constructed under the supervision of Charles Buzzard. Members of the stage crew are: Jane O'Brien, Bill Newitt, Carter Hessner, Virginia Hessner, Bob Uphoff, Margot Nasrallah, Richard Wardell, Gloria Johnson and Philip Chow.

HATCHET Staff Planning New Orientation Handbook

AS PART OF the fall's expanded orientation program, a University Handbook for 1953-54 has been planned by the members of the Hatchet staff and the directors of the orientation program.

The handbook planned is far more extensive than any previous Handbook published at the University. The book will contain 88 pages of text and illustrative material. More than half of the space will be devoted to giving the incoming students all the information about all campus groups and activities.

The contents of the book will also include the complete Orientation schedule, feature material, a map of campus, explanations of the Library, Student Union, and other student facilities, football schedule and outlook, songs and cheers and University traditions.

The books will be given to all incoming students at the first Orientation assembly.

Each campus organization and activity has been asked to give financial support to the publication of the Handbook. The book will be beneficial to all groups, in publicizing their activity to all incoming students. The Handbook will not be possible without the support of all organizations.

are Viola Andofatto, Barbara Benner, Eugenia Brandenburger,

Nancy McCoach

Pat Carlisle, Frances Chaconas, Claudia Chapline, Carol Horsey,

Linda Loehler, Ellen MacEwen, Nancy McCoach, Eileen McNally, Abbie Oliver, Ramona Samples, Maxine Saurel, Amy Schaum and Estelle Stern. There will be a meeting of these candidates on Wednesday.

Annually Pi Delta Epsilon presents their medal of merit to the outstanding collegiate journalist. Like the May Queen crowning, Mortar Board tapping and Student Council results, the medal winner is unknown until the presentation.

Chairmen Coordinate

Chairmen of the committee which has co-ordinated this May Day affair are Nancy McCoach, general chairman; Pat Reed, queens; Ellen Sincoff, publicity; Dick Hansen, program; Fred Fuchs, IFC Sing and Doris Johnson, invitations.

In addition, the Student Council will award 10 certificates of appreciation to those who have contributed to the University through the Student Council.

Newman Club Picks Campus Celebrities

by Joseph Panzitta

Those absent from the presentation were Eileen McNally, Amy Schaum and Estelle Stern.

Chosen with regard to service to the university and on the basis of popularity, the celebrities were introduced by Dick Malzone, president of the Newman Club, during the all-university social function of the year which was held at the Hotel 2400 last Saturday.

Big Sis Hold Workshop To Explain Duties

THE BIG SISTERS' Workshop will be held Saturday in Monroe Hall from 10 to 12 a.m., and not from 2 to 4 p.m. as previously announced.

The Workshop will introduce new Board members and explain the duties of both the officers and members of Big Sis! The new members have been notified of their selection by Big Sis president Ellen Sincoff.

Methods of making the organization more successful will be used as a discussion theme, and will be based on four considerations: "Welcome Week," registration, summer contacts, and after school contacts.

Dr. Vera Mowry of the English Department will speak on orientation, explaining the general concepts of introducing students to college life. Miss Felicia Miller of the Women's Activities Office will explain the new pre-school orientation program, and Ellen MacEwen, as an outgoing Big Sis president will give some tips on how to be a good Big Sis.

Refreshments will be served after the Workshop. All Big Sisters have been urged to attend and bring in any new ideas for fall and spring programs.

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

by F. G. Harmon and Nancy McCoach

When I was one-and-twenty, I heard Informers say,
"Give beer and cheer and women, But not your game away;
Give pins away a-plenty, But always cagey be,
But I was one-and-twenty, No use to talk to me.

When I was one-and-twenty, I heard them say again,
The vote of a frater, Is oft pledged in vain;
It's a loan easily given, 'Cause its payment's never due,
And I am two-and-twenty, And oh, 'tis true, 'tis true.

A Bird in the Hand: After announcing since last May that she would seek the position of Publicity Director, Carlene Parker recently pulled a surprise by dropping from the race. The switch is due to her feeling that to run for office would hinder her chance of being one of next year's Cherry Tree editors.

Starting Line-up: John Holup is shooting for the veep slot in the S.C. line-up. Two new aspirants to the secretarial post are Erma Flores, ZTA, and Doris Severe, KD. It's a woman's prerogative to change her mind and, with Nell Weaver and Marilyn Tate also considering the position, the Informers feel that there is still time for a change. Carol Picton, KKG, will enter the race for Junior College representative.

Double Entente: Some campus politicians are still wondering what Hal Mesirov is really up to. Unusually reliable sources claim that Hal's indecisiveness springs from the possibility of his being our next Booster Board chairman. Speaking of Hal, he's often seen these days in a huddle with Warren Lytle and Delt Jim Merow. Jim hopes to be the first graduate student to hold a major job on the Student Council under the new constitution. The Deltas and the Pikes are planning to combine votes.

The Deltas, by the way, are planning to go all-out for this election business. Following last Sunday's Delt meeting the word was that the following were petitioning: Bob van Sicker, publicity; Buddy Watwood, advocate; Jay Howard, Member-at-large and Damon Cordom, Student Union Chairman.

Historical Note for SAE and Sigma Nu politicians: In the past a politico from one of the houses considering running a brother for S.C. prexy has organized some type of fraternity conclave. The IFC slate has fallen through, it's about time for a meeting of the clans, boys.

Pogo, Albert, Porky Represent Cartoonist

by John Stockton

• THE DELIGHTFUL INHABITANTS of Pogo the Possum's Okefenokee swampland home sprang to life last Friday before the eyes of a captivated crowd in Gov. 1, as creator Walt Kelly sketched vocally and physically, the characters of his increasingly popular comic strip, "Pogo."

Cartoonist Kelly's brainchild has zoomed in four years to a circulation of 350 newspapers and an estimated thirty million readers, with more than eighty characters parading through the strip.

Kelly, interspersing his sketches with comments on the strip, said that the cartoonist faces the problem of relating his subjects to real human beings—he, in particular, "since there are more human beings than possums in the average American family."

With a half-hidden subtlety and, as he says, "that old American talent for irreverence," Kelly pokes gentle fun through the actions of his characters at assorted American institutions and public personalities, something which most comic cartoonists are loath to do. He reminds the reader that "a comic strip represents the facets of one man's personality—the many sides of his nature."

As to the number one denizen of the swamp, Pogo, Kelly says he represents "that civilized quality in man; the social element that holds him together." He compares him, also, to the "little boy" in our families.

The sanctimonious Deacon who speaks in Gothic lettering "to represent how he sounds, not what he says"; the wise (?) Owl, who "has developed an ability to answer almost anything except a question" and "has the kindly benevolent look of a faculty adviser"; Porky the Porcupine, whose preoccupation with details leads him to observe that "you should never take life too seriously—it ain't nohow permanent"; all these characters can be recognized by their actions and their creator's comments as mirroring his impressions of life.

Record Keeping

• WE ARE ALL greatly dependent on the lessons of the past. It should not be necessary to bring this all-too-obvious statement before college students. However, one look at the records of any of our major activities is enough to convince one that something must be said.

The Student Council in all things should be the model of efficiency for our activities. But in the important practice of keeping records, it is hard to imagine anything more chaotic than the Council office.

There is no consistent method of filing or recording the vital facts which any council must know about its predecessors. No doubt these records are available—hidden somewhere in the piles of papers which at present occupy the SC filing cabinets.

We of the HATCHET are probably as guilty as any organization of lackadaisical filing habits. Bound copies of former HATCHETS, supplied by our printers, are our only usable records.

Even the Administration cannot be considered free from the charge of careless record keeping. When Tom Beale recently took over the office of sports publicity, he found the records in an amazingly disorganized state. For many years, there are few or no statistics and even in some cases there are no won and lost records for Buff teams!

The keeping of records is a laborious and time-consuming project. But of its necessity there can be no doubt. Without adequate records, each organization must begin anew each year and there can be no profit from the lessons of the past.

The guilt for this state of affairs here at the University does not rest with one person or with one organization. All of our leaders are guilty as are those who have in the past failed in their duty to prepare adequate records for us. But this is no excuse for inactivity.

The task of organizing such records now seems an overwhelming one. But if each organization—now as the year draws to a close—would resolve to straighten out its records for just this one year, the job would not seem so formidable by this time next year.

In The Mailbag

Students Spurn 42 Cent Culture

Dear Sir:

• WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S performance, April 8, of the National Symphony Orchestra under the very capable direction of Dr. Howard Mitchell, brought to a climax twenty wonderful evenings of classical music.

Inasmuch as they were offered to students at ridiculously low prices, I was surprised to learn that many University students, either because of indifference or of lack of sufficient publicity, failed to take advantage of this offer. With seasonal seats starting at $8.40, or an average of 42 cents a concert, how could anyone afford NOT to go? To me it was the best cultural education promoted by the University last Fall.

According to Reader's Digest, November 1952, attendance at concerts in the U. S. jumped 88% between 1941 and 1951, but it would be hard to believe that students on this campus accounted for the jump, as many available seats remained vacant much of the season.

Since music is the most familiar and talked-about of the fine arts, and since an appreciation of the arts is being stressed in next Fall's curriculum, I would like to encourage more of the students to take advantage of this seasonal extra curricular activity, which furnishes unforgettable evenings of splendid entertainment by outstanding artists. I can think of no finer way to help get that "well-rounded education" we hear so much about.

Jim Berwick.

Have You Met?

'BRANDY'

by Mary Lou Bishop

• EUGENIA BRANDENBURGER driving around in her little green jeep, or running an organization, or planning a project is always as bright and sunny as her native state of Florida. For, although Brandy is one of the most energetic and active girls on campus, she invariably looks as though nothing could ruffle her calm.

Brandy Sings
Anyone who was at the Annual Panhellenic Sing probably remembers it as "Brandy's night." Pi Beta Phi, her sorority, was awarded the cup for first place.

Brandy won the cup for the outstanding director for the second straight year. Then, after the Sing, when the Panhellenic Scholarship prizes were handed out, she was called to the stage again as the senior sorority woman with the third highest scholastic average.

When asked later, brunette Brandy couldn't remember exactly what her average was. "I know it's the lowest you can get and still make Phi Beta Kappa," she said. Incidentally, we happened to know that she had a slightly higher average than the mere 3.5 required of Phi Beta Kappa candidates.

Brandy Paints

Brandy is an art major at the University. She has used her artistic talent outside of school to entertain hospital patients. She didn't enter in the University Art Show, though, because she "couldn't afford the frames."

Among the many organizations that claim Eugenia as an enthusiastic worker and efficient executive are: Pi Beta Phi, Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary; Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary for freshman women; the Cherry Tree, Delphi, sorority women's honorary; Mortar Board, senior women's honorary and Big Sisters. Brandy held many offices in these groups. She also was treasurer of her sophomore class.

Brandy Travels

Right now, she is working on getting a fellowship so she can study abroad after her graduation this May. "It will have to be England," she says, "I can't speak French." After that, she doesn't know exactly what she will do, but, knowing Brandy, it should be good.

Coup d'Oeil

by Phil DeTurk

"I TAKE THIS Means of acquainting the Publick that I have opened a Tavern under my Name and Sign in the Market Square, near the Court Houfe, in Williamsburg." So states the ad of one Josiah Chowning who, back in the Colonial days of George Washington (not the University), decided to set himself up in a respectable business.

Now, thanks to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., places like Chownings may be viewed once again. For in 1926 the altruistic Mr. Rockefeller started a project which has been continued until today. At a cost of more than thirty million dollars colonial Williamsburg in Virginia lives once again. More than 600 modern buildings, etc. have been removed in order to leave room for the reconstruction of over 325 historical residences, public buildings, famous gardens, streets and greens.

Williamsburg, Virginia, known as the home of William and Mary College, the second oldest in this nation, is also the country's most famous restored city. There you may relive the past as you visit the same building in which Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry and the aforementioned George once sat in and talked over their plans.

Only a 150 Miles

So if you're planning a weekend trip, or even just a simple one-day drive, this former seat of Virginia's government is a worthwhile journey. Not only is it less than 150 miles south of Washington, but the drive is through parts of Virginia that are truly scenic. Leaving D. C., you follow route one until you reach Fredericksburg and then proceed along 17 almost all the way to Williamsburg.

Founded as "Middle Plantation," in 1632, Williamsburg was given its present name in honor of William III in 1699. It was incorporated as a city in 1722 and was the principal center of all of Virginia's activities. During the American Revolution, the capital was moved to Richmond and so William's city declined into just another town, yet surprisingly retained most of its colonial buildings.

Colonial Williamsburg, Inc., was founded in 1926 and has since restricted certain areas of the town for reconstruction. There, in these segregated sections, one may find the old courthouse, the Capitol of 1705, Raleigh Tavern, numerous small farrier and weaver shops and the restored houses. Even the people in this section dress as our ancestors did in that era when democracy was merely a desire.

There are numerous tourist places for those who plan a night down in ole Virginy. Should one want to really see this famous state in more of its entirety, it is not difficult to continue from Yorktown, et al, to Charlottesville and Monticello. Richmond lies on the way, so the curious sightseer will be able to cover almost all of Virginia's heritage in an overall haul of only 400 miles.

Circus Time Again

Circus time will soon again be with us. Beginning on April 20th for 13 performances, the twelfth Annual Shrine Circus will be presented at the 3rd and M St. Uline Arena. The Shriners give this traditional showing of clowns, aerialists, animals, etc. in order to raise money for the numerous charitable projects they sponsor.

Arms and the Man will be at the Arena soon, while Pal Joey will open at the Shubert, April 20.

It's still not too late to buy tickets for the Metropolitan Opera which will hold forth at Loew's Capitol Theater for three nights and one matinee, April 27-29. The four productions are La Boheme, Cavalleria and Pagliacci, Samson and Delilah and, in the Tuesday matinee, Rigoletto may be seen. Tickets may be bought at The Snow Concert Bureau.

The current movie-rave of the week is Moulin Rouge at Loew's Palace. Not only does everyone praise the color and scenery, but Jose Ferrer's performance is almost on par with the one he gave in Cyrano. You'll almost certainly leave the theater humming the mysterious "It's April Again," which serves as the background music for this life story of Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec.

Worth thinking about: the 1953 Jazz Concert, which will be held at the National Guard Armory on Sunday, April 26th. Benny Goodman with Gene Krupa, Ziggy Elman and Georgi Auld will battle it out with ole Satchmo Louis Armstrong for the jazz king honors. . . eight glee clubs (350 men) will hold a joint sing in McDonough Memorial Gymnasium at Georgetown on April 24th.

FOGGY BOTTOM

THE UNIVERSITY HATCHET, Tuesday, April 21, 1953 - 5

by Crocky Greciano

successor have as good a reign.

SAE Cam Lowe slipped his pin on Peggy Weeden the Wednesday night previous, making another of the 19th Street boys joining the ranks of the "far gone."

Various spring formals were held during the past week and according to the attendants all were great successes. Sigma Chi held their affair Friday night at the Washington Golf and Country Club, while SAE had their dance at the Hamilton Hotel and the Delts enjoyed the comfort of the National Airport. In the latter affair not only was the new queen Ginny Leech (getting to be a habit) crowned, but 40 members gave the order of purple, gold and white garter to their dates. Great ankles, we hear.

At Sunday's exchange picnic given by ADPI's to Sigma Chi all was quite serene. Although the party didn't break up until ten o'clock after starting somewhere around three in the afternoon, only Social Chairman Pat Burke and Sandy Kitchen had unusual after effects.

Phi Alpha, which recently suffered the effects of a gigantic purge, also held elections during the past week. The new President is Sylvan Goldin, Veep Marvin Rosenblatt, Sec. Buddy Shuman, Treas. Bruce Segan, Pledgemaster George Liss.

Pinnings were the habit around

Sigma Nu over the week end as Risque Harper and Sue Haynes, XO, Dick Manzano and Sue Chaffin, XO, and Whit Minkler and Eileen Dalton, EK, all joined this blissful state. Jim Gippel seems to like Walt Kelly and his Pogo originals while Charlene Gaylord, KA Theta, is the latest bridge tutor to break the ice around the bar.

Everyone (all 72) seemed to enjoy the antics of the four competing groups in the All School Follies of last Wednesday. The day was a big one for the schools of GW and it is only fitting to give a healthy hand salute to the winning School of Government. How do you push those coconuts, Soloman?

PIKA's Choose Ellen Wyvill as Dream Girl

The announcement of Miss Wyvill's election came at the intermission of the Pikes' annual Dream Girl Ball held Saturday, April 1, at the Cloud Room of the National Airport.

The fraternity also elected a Dream Girl Court, consisting of Flora Wright, Joanne Haney, Betty Newel and Cinda Murdock.

Library to Display Art Of Scudder

A SELECTION OF FIFTY-TWO prints from the collection of Robert E. Scudder will be on display from May 3 to June 30 at the University Library.

The collection consists of Japanese prints, about half of which are by Hiroshige, who lived from 1797 to 1858. The rest include the work of seven 18th century artists, seven 19th century ones in addition to Hiroshige and two of the 20th century.

Mr. Scudder, until recently the assistant chief of the Department of State Library, was in charge of Air Force Technical Libraries during World War II. His collection of prints was made in less than a year while he was on a Japanese mission. It shows an exceptionally careful selection on the part of an amateur collector, according to John Russell Mason, the University librarian and curator of Art.

A small collection of background books, including inexpensive books of interest to the student as well as less common and scholarly works on the subject of Japanese prints, will also be on display.

A series of cuts showing the development of a print as the colors are added will be shown with an original print as an illustration of the process of color-block printing.

Engraving to Hang in Office Of President

AN ENGRAVING of "Washington and his Generals," drawn and engraved by Alexander Hay Ritchie (1811-1895), has been presented to the University in memory of the class of 1903 by Mr. Richard Drum Engel, a graduate of the University's Law School.

The engraving is being hung in the office of the President of the University. It was published in color, 30" by 41", by James Tryler, in New York City, in the 1850's.

The artist, Ritchie, was born in Edinburgh, came to this country in 1841, and established an extensive general engraving business in New York. He was a very clever engraver of portraits and it is claimed that he finished every plate that went out of his establishment. In 1871 he was elected to the National Academy of Design.

Mr. Engel, who is himself an artist, was graduated from the University's Law School in 1903 and was awarded the Master of Law degree by the University.

Vote on Student Council Changes

AMENDMENTS TO the Student Council Constitution to be voted on in the coming election are:

Title I, Article III, Section 8, Subsection 2 to strike "He shall also represent the Student Council in regard to special projects." This is to dispense with a conflict with the duties of the Member-at-Large.

Title I, Article IV, Section B, to strike "other than those of Representatives" and insert "that are to be selected at general Council elections." This is to allow elected representatives to be voted on at the regular Student Council elections.

Title I, Article IV, Section D, Subsection 4 to strike "except those for the positions of Representatives" and insert "to be selected at general Council elections." Same reason as number two above.

Title I, Article III, Section B, Subsection 9 add to duties of Program Director.

In conjunction therewith he shall submit to Student Council for approval by September 1. A list of those events which are to be considered as closed nights for the coming school year. Closed nights shall be defined as those nights on which one University event may take place to the exclusion of any gathering held by any other campus organization. This is to standardize a procedure for closed nights.

Three delegates at large selected for the school of Government Council will be elected and the qualifications are the same as those of the School of Government representative.

Applications opened yesterday and will be accepted through Friday at 5:00 p.m. in the Student Activities Office. Campaign advertisements for the HATCHET will be accepted in the Business Managers Office tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday, 12 noon to 1 p.m.

Campaign Rules

1) All University students are eligible to vote. The voter must present his signed activity book and some valid identification card which has the signature of the voter.

2) Voting will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, April 29 and 30 from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Petitions for the following Student Council Offices will be accepted: president, vice-president, advocate, comptroller, activities director, program director, member-at-large, publicity director, secretary, Student Union chairman, freshman director and school representatives from the School of Government, the Junior College, the Columbian College and the School of Education.

Donation for Cancer

THE U. S. PUBLIC Health Service has given the University $5,377 for cancer research.

Dr. Ivor Cornman, assistant research professor of anatomy, will direct the project. The researchers will test various antibiotics to discover a drug which will kill cancer cells in the same way that antibiotics kill bacteria and viruses. Penicillin, aureomycin, and streptomycin are among the antibiotics to be tested.

petitions must be turned into the Student Activities Office during the week of April 20-24 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Office hours of the advocate will be Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 11 a.m. to 12 noon, Tuesday and Thursday, 10 to 11 a.m. Dates when election ads will be accepted will be announced next week.

There will be a referendum of amendments to the Student Council Constitution attached to the ballot.

Senior Wins First Prize in Davis Contest

THE FIRST PRIZE of $25 in the Isaac Davis Contest in Public Speaking was won by Barlow Wagman for his speech entitled "Pop Goes the Push Button Mind." The second prize of $20 went to James Hogan who spoke on "Pouring Troubles on Oily Waters." Barbara Wolf won the third prize of $15 for her speech, "We Live a Lie."

The Isaac Davis Contest is sponsored by a trust set up in 1847. It is for seniors interested in public speaking.

John Douglas Knox, a former professor of public speaking at the University and now in the Education Department of the State Department, judged the contest. It was held last Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in Studio A of Lisner Auditorium.

Besides the three winners, five other seniors entered the contest. They were: George Buckmaster, Linda Loehler, Cinda Murdock, Roger Price and Maxine Sorrel. James Robinson was chairman for the contest.

The prizes won in the Isaac Davis Contest will be awarded at May Day.

Pence to Lead Last Circle Up Of Gay Season

THE LAST FOLK DANCE of the year will be held Thursday evening at 8:30 p.m. in Building J under the sponsorship of the Dance Production Groups and the Student Council.

Tom Pence will lead such favorite dances as The Danish Sextor (Six Dance), which has a moderate tempo and a grand right and left march that is easy to perform and colorful to watch. The Mexican Waltz is not a dance of Mexico but of the southwestern part of the United States, and, it too, is an easy dance that anyone can do whether they've had experience at folk dancing or not.

Other dances will include the Swedish Varsovienne and the Estonian Elde Ratas, which means spinning wheel. The secret to remember in this last dance is never to let go of your partner's right hand. Folk dancing is the one type of dance which does not generally require a definite number of partners, so whether you come alone or with a date, you can dance and have fun.

University Inaugurates Freshman Orientation Week Before School

by Joan Drew

• THE STAGE IS SET for the biggest revolution in the fall semester schedule in recent years. The University at last is going to have a real Freshman Orientation Week taking place before registration.

This drastic change in the orientation schedule was the result of a casual conversation between Student Council President George Sengstack and President Cloyd H. Marvin.

Marvin Desires Improvement

When asked what he thought contributed the most to the success of the school year, George mentioned Orientation. President Marvin immediately expressed his desire to see an improved program—and thus came the "revolution."

Maxine Saurel, freshman orientation director, started the ball rolling by getting her committee together. Representing eight big campus organizations, the committee members were Ellen MacEwen, Big Sis; Anne Page, Panhellenic; John Lytle, I.F.C.; Hal Mesirov, ODK, Phi Eta Sigma and Gate and Key Society; Jack Hinrichs, AFROTC; and Maxine as chairman and Student Council representative.

Faculty Aid Committee

Six members of the faculty were also on the committee, helping on the administrative end of the project. Maxine said of their work together, "I have never seen such wholehearted cooperation from students and faculty together." The faculty members were Dean Koenig, Dean Turner, Miss Kirkbride, Mr. Farrington, Captain Smith and Miss Miller.

The Committee's main problem was getting the schedule of events coordinated. All the freshman orientation events—such as the Big Sis-AFROTC coffee hour, fraternity and sorority rush, campus tours, placement tests and physical examinations had to be planned without conflicts.

Ideas from Other Schools

In order to have some new ideas, Anne Hudgins wrote to colleges and universities all over the country asking for their Orientation programs. By the time the schedules arrived, the committee was ready to meet for the first time and start on the huge task of planning the entirely new Orientation week.

The tentative schedule of events was first drawn up, approved by President Marvin, and without a single piece of red tape to hold it up, the permanent schedule for next fall's Orientation was formed.

Step in Right Direction

"This is a step in the direction of a real Freshman Week," says Maxine, "a week in which everyone works together so that the freshman gets a good, well-balanced activities and academic adjustment."

If any other campus organization would like to coordinate their

Israelian To Discuss Life In Country

• MR. SHAUL KARIV, second secretary of the Embassy of Israel, will discuss his country's social life and culture tonight in Gov. 102 at 8:15.

Mr. Kariv, who will illustrate his talk with a film entitled "The Magnetic Tide," was born in Leipzig, Germany, August 3, 1923.

He received his primary and secondary education in Palestine and in 1947 was graduated from the Civil Service School of the Political Department of Jewish Agency for Palestine in Jerusalem.

From 1942 to 1946 he served in the British Army in the Middle East and in Italy and in 1948-1949 in the Israel Defense Forces. He joined the Ministry for Foreign Affairs of Israel in October, 1949, as Assistant to the Head of the Research Division, where he served until his appointment as Second Secretary of the Embassy of Israel in Washington, his present post.

This lecture, the ninth in a series entitled "Know Your World Neighbors," is open to everyone. The series is given under the joint auspices of the College of General Studies and ten embassies.

Each of the sociology classes.

All sociology students or graduates are cordially invited to attend and should make their reservations by tomorrow.

program with this Freshman Week, they are urged to speak to Maxine or Miss Kirkbride.

Sociologists Meet and Eat

• MR. RICHARD CLENDENEN, chief of the Juvenile Delinquency Bureau, Department of Health, Education and Welfare (formerly the Federal Security Agency) will be guest speaker at the annual sociology banquet to be held on Thursday, April 30, at 7:30 p.m.

A recognized expert in this field, Mr. Clendenen will discuss recent developments and problems regarding juvenile delinquency.

The banquet, sponsored by the Lester F. Ward Sociological Society, will be held in the ballroom of the Roger Smith Hotel. Reservations, at $3.35 per person, may be made with Mr. Gerry Boisvert, president of the Society, or with the following representatives in

Senior Wins $500 Award

• BERNARD LEO KILDAY, JR., 30, recently was awarded a $500 scholarship toward completion of his senior year in the University School of Engineering.

He has been selected as a recipient of a General Electric Engineering Award for $500 toward tuition during his senior year.

Mr. Kilday was selected on the basis of scholarship, good character, outstanding technical and administrative potential and curricular activities. Now a junior in the University's School of Engineering, the award will apply toward his tuition beginning next Fall.

A candidate for the Bachelor of Electrical Engineering degree at the University, Mr. Kilday is a top scholar in his class. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic honorary fraternity, and received the James MacBride Sterrett Jr. Prize for excellence as a physics student. He is a student member of the Institute of Radio Engineers and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and has been selected for membership in Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity, and Theta Tau, national professional engineering fraternity.

Delta G's Act As Hostesses For Conference

• BETA RHO, THE University chapter of Delta Gamma, was the hostess chapter for a conference composed of nine chapters of the sorority.

The nine chapters represented at the event which started Friday evening and continued through Saturday were, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pennsylvania State College, University of Pennsylvania, Gettysburg College and West Virginia University. The other four chapters were Maryland University, American University, Duke University and the home chapter here at the University, Beta Rho.

The representatives of the schools registered Friday and after an open house at the chapter rooms the girls left for the Phi Sigma Kappa house where members of Phi Sig, Sigma Nu and Kappa Sig gave the girls a royal University welcome.

After workshops lasting Saturday morning and afternoon, the girls made quick changes in order to attend the awards dinner held at the Roger Smith Hotel. Distinguished guests at the dinner were, Miss Virginia Kirkbride, Mrs. Robert Preston, Second Vice-President of Delta Gamma International Sorority, and Mrs. Robert Smith, past national president of Delta Gamma.

School of Education Wins All-U Follies Harmonizing Professors Steal Show

• THOUGH THEY WON NO PRIZES the "Faculty Quartet" (upper left) was accorded the warm appreciation of the audience at the 1953 edition of the All-U Follies last Wednesday night at Lisner Auditorium. Ineligible as far as the competition for awards went, the vocal efforts of Mr. Levon Merryfield, Dr. Louis Keating, Dr. Lawrence Folkemer, and Mr. Roderick Davidson (left to right) in "Our Profs Will Shine Tonight" were well enough received to merit an encore.

The winning student skit was presented by the School of Education whose version of school life on "Paradise Isle" enchanted the judges. The photo (top center) hints that even in paradise you've got to take a bath once in a while. Isabel Sweeny (right), director of the skit, gives her approval to the mopping up operation. The big finale (upper right) has Aphrodite McCotsin, a somewhat misplaced Goddess leading the swaying of a gang of swivel hipped football playing "islanders." The two monkeys (left background) are Abbey Oliver up among the tree leaves and and Pat Culley below the sheltering palms.

Holders of the balance in the world struggle for power are gathered in the picture lower left. They are members of the cast of the Junior College's production "Much Ado About Nothing" which was a burlesque on the bi-polar power relationship between east and west. The neutrals depicted are wooing both sides by tempting them with valuable "neutral resources."

"Peter Panned" in "Never Never no Never Land" (bottom center) was the offering of the Columbian College. The boyish Pan found himself a new group of older, more glamorous girls from the Moulin Rouge to amuse him. Doing the Can-Can (left to right) are Ellie Rapp, Carlene Parker, Lynn Staver and Eileen McNailey. In the background are Sandy Kitchen, Tinker Bell and Indians Lyn Henderson (skit director) and Phil Deturk.

The Follies' skits were judged by Bill Gold of the Washington Post, Bill Wilson of Station WMAL, and Mrs. George Prussing, instructor of creative dramatics at the university. RMF

Fox Triples . . .

• RAY FOX roars into third base with a triple during last Friday's torrid action with VMI.

The Buffmen crushed the Keydets in the first game, slamming out 18 hits and 19 runs, with the help of the wind and some sloppy fielding.

In the second game, the Colonials fell apart, losing a 7-run lead in the fourth inning. VMI took a 10-9 lead, and came out the victor by a 11-10 count.

Tomorrow, the Buffmen meet Georgetown in an always-close contest. Favored to improve their previous season's record of two defeats at the hands of the Hilltoppers, the Colonials will be looking forward to meeting West Virginia Friday and Maryland Monday, in games important to the Southern Conference tourney hopes of the club.

Colonial 'Thinclads' Surprise On Road

by Ed Jaffee

• THE COLONIALS' infant track team opened its schedule last week with two road meets, one against Lynchburg College and Washington and Lee at Lynchburg, and the other the Catholic University Invitational at C. U. last Saturday.

Down at Lynchburg last Tuesday the Colonials showed surprising strength. Led by Lenny Ciemniecki's 13 points, they came up with 42 points, although finishing third in the meet. Ciemniecki, the individual high point man for the meet, took seconds in the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard low hurdles and the broad jump, in addition to tying Buffman Phil DeTurk for first place in the high jump.

DeTurk and Ciemniecki tied at 5'8", with both men missing at 5'10". The speedy Ciemniecki, who also plays halfback for the Buff football team, was timed in 10.2 seconds in the 100 as he lost out by an eyelash. No time was taken on his hurdles, and he leaped an even 20 feet to capture second in the broad jump.

Two More Firsts

Ritchie Gaskell added to the Colonials' total with a second-place effort in the 220-yard dash. His time was 23.4 seconds. Gaskell was in front until the final 40 yards.

Jay Quinn and Jack Adams provided the other two firsts for the Buff thinclads. Quinn won the 880 in the good time of 2:01.7, after hanging back most of the way. Adams took the shot put with a heave of 37 feet, and John Posta was eight inches behind to give the Colonials second place in the event. Posta also took second place in the discus throw, and miler Cam Lowe captured the team's ninth second place with a 5:02.5 effort in his specialty. Lowe lost out by less than a yard in a tight stretch run. Pole vaulter Bob Sturm tied for third in his event to round out the Buff scoring. The host Lynchburg team won the meet with 61 points, and W&L took the runner-up spot with 47, nosing out GW by five points.

Saturday a Bad Day

Saturday's meet was a different, and sadder, story for Coach Alex Hogarty's men, as they finished a poor fifth in the six-team CU Invitational. Hampered badly by the loss of Ciemniecki, who re-injured two leg muscles earlier in the week, the Buff could manage only 12 points. CU won the meet with 58 3/4 points to 43 1/2 for Loyola of Baltimore. Gallaudet College took third with 19 1/2, Towson Teachers fourth with 15 1/4, and Shepard College last with 10.

DeTurk was the star for GW in this meet, taking second in the broad and high jumps. Other Colonial scorers were John Zimandanis, fourth in the shot put; Lowe, third in the mile; Sturm, tied for third in the pole vault; Quinn, fourth in the 880, and the 880-yard relay team, which took fourth.

With a meet today against Richmond University at Richmond, and the Baltimore Olympic Club Relays coming up this Saturday at Baltimore, Coach Hogarty reiterated his call for more men. Hogarty wishes that "some of the men who showed up so well in the intra-mural meet here at school would see me as soon as possible about turning their talents into points for the varsity." Hogarty, referring back to the two meets already held, was not exactly happy over the fact that the Colonials were extremely weak in depth. He was even less happy over the fact that the javelin throw, an event which might easily have been won by DeTurk, was not included in either meet.

finally rounded into pitching shape . . . That one platoon football is back . . . That spring grid practice is limited to twenty sessions . . . That the Southern Conference has the Freshmen rule. Think of the 1952 football team without Len Ciemniecki, Skinny Saffer, Bob Sturm, or the hoop boys without Joe Holup . . . That this Spring's Intramural program has been accepted so widely by the student body.

And now it's time for our Question of the Week. Sorry, there are no prizes, it's a non-profit query. Since Tom Flyzik and Frank Contentetti have recently inked pro grid contracts, we want to know who was the last Colonial to play professional football?

Weather Postpones Many Intramural Softball Games

• DESPITE THE FACT that the weatherman rained out the first three games, the 1953 version of intra-mural softball competition got under way. Phi Alpha and TKE, by virtue of 3 wins, lead the 14-team league and are closely followed by Sigma Chi and Welling Hall who have compiled 2 victories apiece. The season promises to be unusually interesting as the Greeks and Independents tangle in the same single league. Games will be played every Sunday from 10 to 4 until May 10, after which a play-off will decide the champion.

Slugging Senior 'Bino' Balances Young Team

by Bob Alden

• ONE OF GEORGE Washington's greatest little men of sports in the University's history is winding up his athletic career this spring.

Rounding out his antics in behalf of the Colonials on the diamond this May is Bino Barreira, who tore up the gridiron many a time during his three years as a varsity backfield star and who has belted many a powerful blow at the plate as a regular outfielder for three seasons.

The mighty mite has proved himself an important balancer for Coach Bill Reinhart's freshman-studded nine with his timely hitting and steady fielding. Barreira has batted across 16 runs in ten games to pace the Colonials in this department. His hits this season have included two homers, two triples and a double.

The speedy senior has patrolled left field very capably, making several really good catches and has generally been superb in fielding hits to his position.

Says This Is Best Team

The affable Barreira declared without reservation, "This is the best team that I have ever played on. GW has added a number of good young ball players this year and they have more depth than they have had in the past. The hitting and pitching are also improved this season."

The 5 feet, six-inch Barreira, who scales only 154 pounds, does not expect to engage in professional baseball or football. Instead the 24-year old education major with a "B" average plans to teach and coach in the future.

Barreira hails from Hudson, Massachusetts where he starred at sports at Hudson High. After an 18-month hitch in the army, and a tenure at Worcester Academy, he came to GW.

Starred with Andy Davis

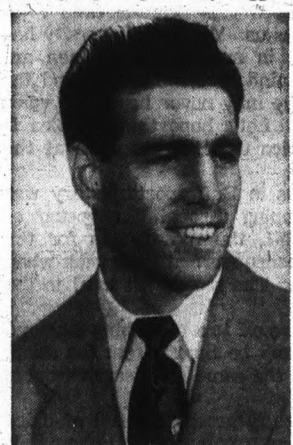

After performing on the freshman baseball and football squads, he moved right up to a regular position on GW's varsities in both sports in his sophomore year.

He recalls that his best football season was as a junior when he was named to the all-Southern Conference third eleven. Last fall he made honorable mention.

"That game down at South Carolina in which we upset the Gamecocks with two touchdowns in the final minutes was my biggest thrill in sports while at GW. I caught nine passes from Andy Davis for 169 yards and scored the tying touchdown in that game."

Barreira adds, "There is no one thing that has stood out in my baseball days, although I did get a big kick from hitting a homer against Duke in the first game in the Southern Conference playoffs last spring. I guess my biggest thrill in baseball would come if we could go all the way this spring."

Last year's football co-captain and acting captain of the baseball team is married to the former Pat Frankhouser, and resides in a home near the university.

Achieves Other Honors

The pleasant Barreira has also made his mark in campus activities. Last winter he was named to the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He has also been initiated to Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary fraternity for men outstanding in university activities.

Barreira, also a member of SAE social fraternity, was recently honored at an SAE Founders' Day Banquet along with Jack Scarbath, the all-American Maryland quarterback, for being the outstanding football players in this area.

Sailors Take Own Regatta

• WITH SKIPPER John Dodge piling up more than half of the team total, the Colonial sailors lowered the boom on Georgetown and Princeton Saturday afternoon. Winning four out of six races in the team regatta, the Buff "swabs" rolled up 64 3/4 points, 39 3/4 of them earned by Skipper Dodge.

Victory was sweet on two counts for the sailors. Always glad for the opportunity to throw spray in Georgetown faces, the Buffmen haven't fared too well this year until Saturday.

Also sailing for GW were Lorenz Shrenk, Neil Weaver, Fred Tomlinson and Carlene Parker.

Some of the outstanding games of the day were:

SAE over TEP 10-7.

TKE edged first AEPi, then SAE 5-4; 4-3.

Phi Alphas slammed Acacia 21-4. DTD downed Kappa Sigma Phi 12-8.

Sigma Chi beat Phi Sig 10-2. The League Standings thus far are:

the Colonials, by hitting a grand-slam homer, and a double as well as making several spectacular catches.

Blow 7-0 Lead in Nightcap

The Colonials opened the second contest as though they were going to duplicate their earlier effort. But after building a 7-to-0 lead in the first two innings, the Buff began to collapse in the fourth.

Jerry Marvel lacked the lustre he had shown in his mound appearances to date and was relieved after four innings. But his successors, Steve Bauk and Stan Walawac were blasted even harder as VMI took a 10-9 lead, eventually triumphing, 11 to 10. The winning run was unearned, however, as Bo Austin, another of GW's freshman slugging stars, booted a VMI single allowing the eleventh run to come in.

Third-baseman Jimmy Hill continued his batting pace by walloping four hits during the long afternoon, smashing a duo in each game.

Catcher Steve Korcheck, battling with Saffer and Hill for top-batting honors among GW regulars, hit safely in his two official trips in the opener and added another bingle in the nightcap.

Richmond Game Postponed

Bob Frederick missed an opportunity to register his third straight triumph and fourth of the season, as rain intervened in the Colonials' scheduled contest Friday with Richmond.

The Spiders, last year's Northern Division champions and rated as co-favorites this spring with the Colonials, trail the Buff in loop standings as a result of their 1-0 loss to VPI. Shutting out Richmond was VPI's ace right-hander Jim Beard, who almost defeated GW a week ago with his brilliant hurling.

• CHEERLEADERS practice will be held in the gym from April 20 to 29. The cheerleaders' way is paid to out-of-town games and tournaments. Both boys and girls are needed. Student Council, football and basketball team representatives will judge on April 29

• THE SHOWERS CONTINUE to send off their steaming liquid. The room smells of alcohol and sweat. Powerful masculine voices pierce the air as horseplay predominates. Tired bodies are clothed and make for the door. Suddenly the room is empty, suddenly there is no more shouting, showering, or sweating. All is quiet, the athletes have left . . . Such is the stillness, the serenity of a locker room.

The locker room is not yet empty. A voice—weak, flat and weak—murmurs over and over again, "If only we had more guys out for the team. If only we had some depth." The voice trails off and we hear, "If only, if only . . ."

This scene could well be taking place for the Buff team. The cinder squad, now a reality, had its second meet and accumulated 12 points in a pentagonal meet last week end. The coaching is now meshing with the talent and the Colonials are moving up in the track world. But the tired voice from the locker room still haunts us. Yes, the University has a track squad, but it is small in number. More men are desperately needed for the remainder of the season and for future years. Let's hope that we may never hear that voice of the locker room ever again. Let's hope that his plea is heeded by Buffmen. It is a voice that has no place at the University.

One of the strangest annals in Buff sports history was written last Friday. After romping through the opener of a baseball twin bill against VMI, the roof fell in for the Colonials. Coach Bill Reinhart's men were at their peak when they trounced the Keydets, 19-1. The second tilt went to the Lexington lads, 11-10.

Despite this split, the Buff are off to a refreshing diamond start. One thought, however, can't be thrust from the mind. Will the baseball team run into the same late season trouble that plagued the hoop squad?

Both teams are young, slightly green, but full of drive and hustle. Both squads burst with potential and showed it in early season tilts. We can only pray that the Colonial nine holds up better in the stretch than did the quintet.

Rain played havoc last week with the Buff tennis team. Word reaching us from our Lexington correspondent says that the Colonials were leading the VMI Keydets, 2-0 and were winning in three more when the elements stopped the proceedings. The same story was almost repeated with West Virginia . . . rain washed this one completely out.

WE ARE GLAD TO SEE . . . That George Sengstack has

In the April ISAB golf tournament Delta Gamma came through with top honors. Kappa Alpha Theta and Pi Phi tied for second place.

In the swimming meet held last Tuesday and Wednesday, the University team did not win, but they did some good swimming. Mary Freeman, Shirley Floyd, Helen Haynes and Ruth Berryman were the team members.

High scorer for the whole meet was Mary Freeman, who won the 150-yd. individual medley, the 200-yd. free-style and the relay medley. She also copped first prize in the finals.

The meet as a whole went to American University.

The Maryland-D. C. American Federation of College Women sports day which was to be played here last Saturday, was cancelled due to rain.

Thursday is the date set for the All-University Swimming meet to

Women's doubles high scorers were Jackie Viau and Cecelia Jaracz with 389. Nan McKinney and Shirley Floyd came second with 370, while Becky Heon and Helen Lampiris had 363 for third. Colonials Clash with Hoyas Tomorrow in Bid for City Title; Play West Virginia Twice Friday

By Bob Alden

• THE COLONIALS' youthful belters swarm upon Georgetown's hot and cold Hoyas tomorrow and strive to wrestle the District Big Three leadership from Joe Judge's Hilltoppers.

George Washington, playing .800 ball this season, are battling to reverse last year's mediocre record against Georgetown and Maryland. The Buff, who lost both games with each opponent, finished in dead last among the "Big Three."

DE MONGE TALLIES FOR COLONIALS
... Buff batters VMI

The Hoyas, who are rated underdogs in tomorrow's fracas, jumped off to an early lead in this year's competition by defeating an undermanned Maryland nine, 5 to 3. Georgetown, however, has been playing only .500 ball, and only Rube Wadele has proved consistently effective.

Maryland entertains the Colonials on Monday at its new diamond near the new Byrd Stadium. The Terps are dangerous when football stars Chester Hanulak ("from Hackensack") and Bernie Faloney are in the lineup at center field and shortstop; but when the two diamond-gridiron stars are engaged in spring football, the Terrapins resemble something less than a title contender.

Play important S. C. Twin-Bill

The Colonials return to Southern Conference action after tomorrow's Georgetown clash with a double-header against usually rugged West Virginia on the West Ellipse. George Washington, leading the Northern Division with a 3-1, .750 loop record, should triumph in both encounters if it wishes to retain visions of a title.

GW, which stumbled to its only loss in S. C. play when it dropped a 11-10 decision to an inept VMI nine, continue its drive for a Northern Division crown in the Maryland game Monday.

Build Second Four-Win Streak

The Colonials added two more victories to their record last week and accumulated their second four-game victory string before bowing.

Bill Reinhart's ball club pulled an extra inning thriller out of the fire a week ago when it edged Virginia, 8 to 7 in ten innings at Charlottesville. After the Buff had scored twice in its tenth, Bob Frederick limited the Cavaliers to a single run to achieve his third triumph.

GW Staggers VMI, Then Stumbles

The Colonials unleashed an 18-hit attack that netted 19 runs against a hapless VMI team. The 18 hits, however, do not reflect the slugging prowess of the Colonials, but rather the positively mediocre defenses of the Keydets. The combination of misjudgements on the part of the Keydets and the wind accounted for a major percentage of the GW hits.

Particularly distinguishing themselves among the G-Streeters were George Sengstack, Bino Barreira and John Saffer. The senior right-hander scattered seven hits among the Keydets and aided his own cause by slamming a bases-loaded triple and two other hits.

Barreira slugged a three-run homer, a run-scoring single and continued his sparkling play for scored four times. Skinny Saffer

Awards Assembly Honors Athletes

• THE ANNUAL AWARDS Assembly, culminating the overall sports program of the University, will be held Wednesday, April 29, at 12:45 in Lisner Auditorium.

Every phase of school athletics is represented at the assembly. Among the varsity awards to be given are the Colonials Incorporated presentation of watches to the most valuable football and basketball lettermen; the Tuffy Leemans Cup, named in honor of one of the Colonials' all-time football greats and a stand-out in professional ranks. A cup, the miniature of a large perpetual cup, is presented to a senior football letterman selected by vote of his teammates.

Intramural awards will go to championship fraternity and independent teams, and to winners of events in individual intramural competition. Trophies will go to all winners, and members of teams will receive key-chain emblems.

The Women's Recreation Association will make awards to the winning teams and individuals in women's sports, and the Sorority Athletic Board will honor the sorority with the outstanding athletic record for the year.

Director of Men's Activities, Max Farrington, has extended invitations personally to the parents of varsity lettermen receiving awards, and Intramural Director, Vincent DeAngelis, is inviting parents of intramural award winners. All students are welcome and are urged to come, as the program is the climax of the athletic year at the University.

Tennis Team Breaks Even In Two Tilts

• THE COLONIALS tennis squad came out even in matches while losing out to Old Man Weather last week when it was rained out in tilts with VMI and West Virginia, lost to Georgetown and walloped VPI, 7-2.

Rain forced cancellation of a Monday match with West Virginia. On Wednesday, the Buffmen, without the services of number one man, Ed Beale, who was sick, dropped their third match of the season, 8-1.

Friday afternoon the team got back into high gear, trouncing VPI, 7-2. Mickey Boteler, Al Reynard, Bert Epstein and Andy Cole sweeping all six single matches, and Beale-Boteler doubles team winning its match, the netmen notched their fourth triumph.

Tomorrow, the racketmen come up against a strong Southern Conference foe, William and Mary. In the weeks following, they will meet powerful Maryland and Virginia, plus Richmond and Washington and Lee.

Phi A's Win Volleyball

Phi Alpha copped the volleyball championship Thursday night by defeating Welling Hall in two straight games 21-19 and 15-22. It was the climax of a two-day elimination tournament in which 12 campus organizations competed. For Phi Alpha, it was the fourth major win of the year and a virtual guarantee for the All-University award.

Correction . . .

• LAST WEEK THE Hatchet erroneously stated that Ritchie Gaskell was high point man of the Intramural track meet.

Nelson Oertel was high man with 16 points. Our apologies to Mr. Oertel, one of the few independents to enter the meet and certainly the best.
